DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, drawn to a method of demonstrating the draining activity of a cosmetic and/or a dermocosmetic treatment.

Group II, claim(s) 8-21, drawn to a cosmetic composition.

Group III, claim(s) 22-27, drawn to the use of a lipolytic active ingredient for the production of a composition having a draining effect on the superficial dermis and/or the epidermis.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. Franconi et al. teaches of the assessment of a hydration cream by measurement of the epidermal moisture content by MRI, using transverse relaxation time (see British Journal of Dermatology 1995, 132, 6, 913-917).

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- a.) administration route: topical or ingestion or inhalation
- b.) relaxation time: T1 or T2
- c.) lipolytic active ingredient

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 1-7 correspond to the species: administration route and relaxation time

Claims 1-27 correspond to the species: lipolytic active ingredient

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-27.

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

a.) Different administration routes (i.e. topical, ingestion, etc.) require different composition formulations (i.e. constituents) and therefore would require a different search.

b.)  $T_1$  (spin-lattice relaxation time) is characterized by the longitudinal return of the net magnetization to its maximum length in the direction of the magnetic field. The  $T_1$  is the decay constant for the recovery of the z component of the nuclear spin magnetization toward its thermal equilibrium value.  $T_1$  indicates how quickly the spinning nuclei will emit their absorbed RF into the surrounding tissue.

$T_2$  (spin-spin relaxation), occurs when the spins in the high and low energy state exchange energy but do not lose energy to the surrounding lattice. Macroscopically, this results in a loss of transverse magnetization.

$T_2$  values are generally much less dependent on field strength, B, than  $T_1$  values.

c.) the lipolytic active ingredients comprise different structural formulas, for example, and would require a different search.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Notice of Rejoinder

8. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
